To whom it may concern:

Under Indiana law, an Indiana attorney may elect to assume "inactive good standing" status by filing an affidavit stating that they are currently in active good standing and that they neither hold judicial office nor are engaged in the practice of law in Indiana. Inactive status allows the attorney to remain on Indiana's "Roll of Attorneys," subject to reactivation at a later date, provided they have: (1) paid one half of the annual attorney registration fee in a timely manner, (2) have complied to that point with the Supreme Court's continuing legal education requirements; and (3) is not then subject to disciplinary action affecting the attorney's good standing.

We have been asked to certify William McHenry Horne attorney status. Our records show William McHenry Horne elected inactive good standing status on September 19, 2019 and remains in inactive good standing status as of this date. We can report that William McHenry Horne was admitted to the Indiana bar on May 12, 2006.

We can also report that our records indicate William McHenry Horne has never been subject to any formal disciplinary proceeding initiated by the Indiana Supreme Court Disciplinary Commission.

Sincerely,

Bradley W. Skolnik
